

Fishway Workshop for Volunteers

Sponsored by
The Town of Greenwich
Conservation Commission

Wednesday - February 6, 2008
9 am – 11 am

Garden Education Center at the Montgomery Pinetum
130 Bible Street, Cos Cob

The Town is looking to expand its current volunteer base and monitoring program at the Mianus Pond Fishway. As part of this effort, all interested residents are invited to attend a workshop/informational meeting. Participants in the workshop will learn about the history of the fishway, the fishes that utilize it, how it is operated, and the duties volunteers are expected to perform. No prior knowledge of fish passage is needed to attend. Local residents, fishing groups, watershed associations, and town employees are encouraged to attend.

There is no fee for this program – pre-registration is required so we can have appropriate numbers of handouts, etc.
