First Selectman Names New Human Resources Director

October 22, 2003 ... First Selectman Richard Bergstresser today announced that Maureen Kast has been named Director of Human Resources for the Town of Greenwich, effective Monday October 27, 2003.

Ms. Kast, who was Deputy Human Resources Director for the City University of New York, succeeds Al Cava, Director of Labor Relations, who had been acting in the Human Resources position and formerly was Director of Human Resources.

“Greenwich is honored to welcome Ms. Kast into our Town,” said Mr. Bergstresser. “Her background and experience as a highly accomplished human resources professional with more than 18 years managing, leading and coordinating complex and innovative human resources projects and processes will serve Greenwich well.”

Ms. Kast was with City University of New York since 1998 where she managed human resources services for 19 diverse senior and community colleges, served as director for Classification and Compensation and streamlined the University recruitment system.

From 1985 to 1998, Ms. Kast was with the New York City Police Department, where she served as Deputy Director of the Police Department’s employment section overseeing classification, compensation, employee appointments, payroll authorization and employee benefits administration for more than 6,000 civilian staff.

Ms. Kast has a bachelor of science degree in behavioral science from New York Institute of Technology and is pursuing a master of science degree in industrial labor relations from Baruch College.
