FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
December 13, 2007

Officer of the Month

The Greenwich Police Department would like to announce that Police Officer John D'Inverno has been selected as its recipient for the Officer of the Month for December 2007.

On Tuesday, November 20, 2007 at approximately 9:26 P.M., Officer D'Inverno was detailed to Wildwood Drive on a report of a pregnant female possibly going into labor.

While enroute to the location, Communication Operator, Harold Munrow provided emergency medical instructions over the telephone to the caller waiting at the scene.

Upon the arrival of Officer D'Inverno, he observed the pregnant female lying in the driveway and after conducting an assessment of her medical condition he discovered that birth was imminent.

Officer D'Inverno relying on his emergency medical training in childbirth delivery was instrumental in guiding and helping the mother deliver her newborn child.

The mother and child were subsequently transported to the Greenwich Hospital by GEMS and turned over to medical personnel thereat.

Officer D'Inverno's quick evaluation of the patient's condition and subsequent actions were instrumental in a safe delivery and the well being of the mother and her newborn.

Congratulations, to Officer D'Inverno on a job well done.
